

Leto walked the land all dressed in black,
But not because she didn't like colours, no, not that,
She believed in the colour black, black settled her spirit
Because of this Zeus paid her a visit
And along came maternity with the two twins
But the people of Greece thought the birth would bring sins
Artemis was born on the Island of Ortygia by a river
To Zeus his new daughter she would deliver
But just as Leto climbed the Isle of Delos with her new daughter
The first son of Zeus was born this time with no water
Artemis stayed a young girl, and asked for sweet slender bows and silver arrows
So she could hunt with her group of nymphs in the shadows
She was happy alone dancing in the dark
As the trees bent closer to listen to her heart

But then came along, a man whose archery skills matched her own

And she found her heart not wanting to be alone

But her deceitful brother liked her just the way she was

He didn't want her to fall in love just because

So Apollo told her that her enemy was out swimming

Artemis took the shot and fired thinking she was winning

But when she swam out to get the body she discovered it was Orion

She realised her brother tricked her, her anger a lion

She begged her father to keep him alive

Zeus told her that only in the stars he could survive

And so to this day Orion is now in the stars

And Artemis still waves to the one who stole her heart
